Advice: The course is an advanced level course for the ISTQB® Certified Tester Foundation Level

In this advanced ISTQB® training course everything revolves around the selection and application of the non-functional test methods as well as the procedures for white box testing. You will be able to structure defined test tasks with regard to technical requirements and to analyze the system-internal structure in order to achieve the expected quality level. We will show you how to meet the required technical quality expectations, how to evaluate security and performance, how to perform the technical test activities and how to implement the right test techniques and tools.

The course teaches the curriculum contents of the ISTQB® within 3 days. We will show you the different procedures, techniques and tools for the non-functional system test and make sure that you can apply everything you have learned as a technical test analyst in your company. We will address the advantages and disadvantages of tool groups in greater detail and illustrate their main application areas. The course is accompanied by repetitions with regard to the terminology of testing and its basics.

All our trainers have many years of experience in the field of software testing, and have a track record as consultants in small and big projects.
